

Douglas Jennings Law Firm helps to buy grill for BPD

February 19, 2023

Recently, Douglas Jennings Law Firm donated funds to Bennettsville Police Department to buy a grill. The commercial gas grill was built by Del Woods in Clio. Police Chief Kevin Miller said the department provides food for the community kitchen and community outreach. In the past, he said they had borrowed grills from department members. Jennings said the firm was happy to support the BPD with its community outreach efforts. "This grill will hopefully assist them with building good relationships within the community, which is vitally important to law enforcement," he said. "We all have a vested interest in supporting local law enforcement, and as a part of this community, we are glad to be doing our part." In the past year, Jennings has stopped doing criminal defense work.